

Babies need you to protect them from the flu.

Get a flu shot.

Influenza is very serious for babies under 6 months old — but they are too young to be immunized against the flu. They need you to be protected.

Immunization is recommended for:

- Anyone who lives with a baby, including other children
- Pregnant women
- Child care providers

Flu immunization for you and your family is the best way to protect your baby from the flu.

Get a Flu Shot Today!

